★ Presentation of the Bastogne War Museum

Opened in 2014, the Bastogne War Museum has established itself as Belgium's leading centre dedicated to the Second World War and the Battle of the Bulge.

Since opening, it has welcomed more than 1.7 million visitors

Over the years, the museum's offer has expanded considerably: from an initial exhibition, the museum now includes four immersive visitor experiences, spread across three complementary memorial sites.

For school groups, five educational activities are available. Those are suitable for children aged 6 and over.

The museum is open daily from 9.30 am to 6.00 pm (until 7.00 pm in July and August).

★ BASTOGNE WAR MUSEUM (2h00)

Located just a stone's throw from the Mardasson Memorial, the Bastogne War Museum invites pupils to dive into the heart of the Second World War and the Battle of the Bulge. Through an immersive journey following four characters, pupils explore the conflict with the help of an audio guide available in French, English, Dutch and German.

Poignant testimonies from civilians and soldiers, multi-sensory displays, authentic artefacts and historical vehicles punctuate the visit, offering a powerful and memorable educational experience.

★ GENERATIONS45 (30min)

Follow the journey of two veterans, one American and the other German, in post-war Europe, from 1945 to 1989, from the ruins of Bastogne to the fall of the Berlin Wall.

★ BOIS JACQUES (30min)

Visit the remains of the Bois Jacques battlefield augmented reality mobile application. Thanks to this technology, share with your students the daily life of the G.I.'s holed up in the original foxholes.

★ BASTOGNE WAR ROOMS (1h00)

Dive into the heart of the American resistance during the Battle for Bastogne, surrounded by the atmosphere of the old headquarters. The Bastogne War Rooms provide a complete immersion at the heart of this historic site. It is the place where General McAuliffe pronounced his renowned response, "NUTS!", to the German demand to surrender.

The Bastogne War Museum offers a free audioguide tour that immerses the student into the heart of the conflict, from the perspective of 4 characters: Emile, a 13-year-old schoolboy, Mathilde, a young local schoolteacher, Robert, an American paratrooper and Hans, a German officer. They give and explain their point of view along the way, tracing this major conflict in our history, from its causes to its consequences.

Punctuated by 3 immersive films, this visit gives students a complete and interactive discovery of this major conflict in our history.

An educational pack, designed by teachers, is available via the via the QR code below to help you prepare your class for the visit.

After the visit of the Bastogne War Museum, your pupils will have access to the Generations45, Bois Jacques Battlefield and Bastogne War Rooms experiences.

With this school programme, the museum's education team positions itself between, on the one hand, general citizenship education and, on the other hand, history in order to help the future generation of tomorrow to understand the world around them.

The principal objective is to support the students and the work of schools in the formation of open-minded citizens, capable of adopting a critical and sensitive approach to thought. To achieve this, the museum relies on modern and diverse tools and methodologies (workshops, technological aids, educational resources, debating games et cetera). This type of reflection is fuelled by an active teaching approach based on questioning, discovery, listening, active participation, debate and, above all, interactivity.

Consequently, the Bastogne War Museum's educational programme lends itself History teachers as well as Citizenship, Geography, French or Philosophy teachers.

Our Tour Team

To understand a situation as complex as that of the Second World War, it is necessary to call upon a group with a wide range of skills. Our team consists of guides, historians, educational co-ordinators and retired teachers.

In the near future, the educational team aims to expand its programme to include activities at each of the museum's other historic sites: the Bois Jacques Battlefield and the Bastogne War Rooms

6 - 13 years

A visit with Émile (2h00)

Accompanied by an animator, students discover the realities of the life of Émile, the Bastogne War Museum's courageous child, as well as that of civilians and soldiers caught up in a deadly conflict.

The animation begins with a brief introduction that puts the Second World War into context, and then leads the children to discover real period testimonies, sensory workshops and multimedia rooms. They discover the daily life of our elders by handling objects, exchanging points of view and drawing parallels between specific situations and the way we live today.

Roads of exile (2h30)

Through the history of the Second World War, the harsh reality of exile is explained in concrete terms, using testimonies and artifacts from the period. The animation is based on the migration of a large proportion of the population persecuted by the totalitarian Nazi regime from 1933 onwards, and on the mass exoduses caused by the fighting. Its journey through the Bastogne War Museum naturally leads to questions about contemporary migration. The natural right to security of every individual, enshrined in the third article of the 1948 Universal Declaration of Human Rights, serves as a common thread throughout the visit.

★ Extend your experience with a visit to the battlefields (+2h00)

13 years +

Continue your day at the Bastogne War Museum with the discovery of emblematic battle sites around Bastogne.

You start by discovering the Bois de la Paix, where 4,000 trees have been planted to pay tribute to the veterans of the conflict. Next, you'll explore the remnants of the Bois Jacques battlefield via an augmented reality mobile application. Thanks to technology, you can experience the lives of the Easy Company soldiers entrenched in their foxholes. Finally, you finish with a stop at the German military cemetery in Recogne

War Tribunal - When justice takes over

This activity takes place in the form of a role play, permitting your students to discover the social and judicial issues of the period.

During the morning, each student is assisted by a co-ordinator with the aim of helping the student to best embody their character during the role play in the afternoon. Using first hand accounts, content and artifacts displayed inside the museum, your students will discover each complexity and variety of human reactions when faced with extreme situations.

In the afternoon, your group will take their place in a mock court room, participating in an extraordinary immersive experience, in which they will impersonate the role that they were given in the morning. Accompanied by a detailed character sheet, and armed with the elements discussed during the visit, the different court actors will have to build a case for or against the accused, then deliberate and give reasons for their decisions.

Based on real historical events, the outcome of this trial ends with a verdict determined by the quality of the debates and the choices made by the participants, whether they are magistrates, witnesses or even the accused.

Discovering Human Rights (2h30)

After a brief introduction to the history of human rights, your class, divided into groups, begins its tour of the Bastogne War Museum.

During the visit, your students will be given a roadmap showing the main articles of the Declaration of Human Rights, and questioning the influence of the Second World War on its creation. This document will help them identify the ways in which fundamental rights were flouted at different times during the conflict. This activity enables your group to understand the extent to which human beings have shown resilience and adaptation or, on the contrary, how they have reproduced the mistakes of the past.
